Exorbitant Insurance Rates Forces Us To Give Unheard of Values

We have no assurance that the outrageous fire insurance rates are going to be settled satisfactorily and any day the local agents may insist upon El Paso merchants paying the new rate. Rather than submit to such "legalized robbery" we will continue reducing our stock, giving the greatest values ever known in clothing, furnishings, hats, etc.

ELCOME to our city, mister other new face on the visitors' bench is Wingo Anderson. We are Anderson. Wingo Anderson. We are glad-u-kum and there is al-ways a little corner alongside the Cincinnati faithfully to see that name of yours among the willing workers, and when you were sold to Dayton Cable services to a come back home for the remainder of the season. Now that you are coming, we're all for you and are just as confident that you have everything needed the great Waddell, Mathewson and Scott. That you were thought good enough to go on the high speed clutch with the Reds is a compliment in itself. They have given it to you that with a bit more control you will go back stronger than a vaudeville weight lifter. In the meantime you have the key to the city, the freedom of the water front, and anything else you may off and be glad of the chance. Scott may come to Douglas after the Chicago season closes, as he did last year, but the chances of his appearing in the cactus patch before the weather man gives waivers on the good old summer season are as good as a hundred to one best bet on a doped mud runner.

Two sportsmen true broke into this sanctum sanatorium late Thursday evening bent upon settling a bet-the bet being on the number of strikeouts credited to Anderson and Waddell in that famous session these two left handers had on the park grounds one day last fall. The Waddell faction contended and even resorted to arguments to prove that the great rural one fanned more men than the boy with the short circuited right arm. The old fair tournament score book was dug up from the bottom of a pile of Tom Andrews's tomes on battlers past and present, an autograph copy of the late lightweight champion of Hedewisch and Mr. A. Spaulding's treatise on baseball. A string of "K's" (the sign used for strikeouts) told the story of the first two Waddeli innings. Then the mighty Rube got a blow on the instep that pu him out of commission and the strikeouts after that totaled but eight more and Anderson won on the strikeout bet 20 to 12. But sad to relate, strikeouts do not win games always, although they did win that bet for the Anderson

The play was as much a surprise to Frankle as it was to the 7000 odd fans present, one of the St. Louis baseball writers said in his comment column.

A box of smokes is being offered by local smokehouse for the El Paso batter who knocks out a three base hit in the Douglas series.

What is the harvest to be? That little question mark is bothering some of the pitchers on the club. With Anierson, there is no use for four other pitchers when three a week is the best hat can be done in the game line. Someone will have to get a blue slip in his pay envelope but who the unlucky ones are to be is not known and it would have to be decided by a tossup o nearly even are the pitching abilities of the slab staff.

Foresight Is a Heap Better Than Hindsight

How many of those who read this talk can look back and see where they might have won comfort, plenty and ease if they had used just common every day horse sense in the years passed. Just a little good judgment would have saved you years of unnecessary toil and grind. If you have one whit of common sense left, NOW is the time to exercise it -you cannot begin sooner.

EL PASO HERALD

Today offers you the chance you are looking for. It is the most beautiful city on the Pacific coast, with bay and climate its basic assets. It presents the livest field for clean investment in California. This is the city that has more than doubled its population in four years. It is the first port of entry on the coast north of the Panama canal, and thousands of men and women who have FORE-SIGHT will invest their money where it will SURELY grow. HOW DOES THIS SOUND TO YOU?

San Diego's present population over 50,000, 10 business blocks now in course of construction, miles of streets being paved, 197 miles of graded streets, 195 miles of cement sidewalks, every hotel in town full of people, over 1000 homes now building. This is enough to show you now-there is plenty more later,
